

Flying Farmer Objectives

- To help reduce unnecessary regulations for general aviation
- To promote safe flying through continued education and upgrading
- To develop public acceptance of light aircraft
- To promote the practical use of the airplane in the agriculture industry
- To sponsor education and research in agriculture and aviation
- To encourage close-in landing strips for towns and cities
- To express the ideas and opinions of farm families at a national level
- To encourage the conservation of our soil and water
- To insist that aviation gasoline taxes, where collected, be used for the development of aviation
- To cooperate with other aviation organizations for the furtherance of general aviation through aviation legislation

The IFF has something for everyone....

- ◆ Flight Safety – Chapter sponsored flight clinics supervised by the FAA
- ◆ Insurance Programs – Special aviation group insurance designed to meet the members’ needs
- ◆ Legislative Representation – U.S. and Canadian representatives work closely with aviation groups too protect flying interests
- ◆ Teen/Junior Programs – The opportunity to participate in worthwhile projects and stimulation social activities
- ◆ Scholarships and Awards – Everything from “Landit” to solo awards, college to aviation scholarships
- ◆ Tours – Offered to members at very reasonable rates. IFF members have flown their planes to Alaska, Central America, Mexico, the Grand Bahamas and to various locations throughout the United States and Canada
- ◆ Magazine – A bimonthly magazine, The International Flying Farmer, provides the latest developments in agriculture, aviation and organizational activities
- ◆ Annual Conventions – A family event where hundreds of IFF members descend in airplanes upon the convention site and prepare for a fun-filled and educational week.

Something too good not to share . . . an IFF application for membership
